

Checking Superfast Availability

There are a number of websites that can help you check whether superfast fibre is available in your area, including:

The Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport:

Ofcom has a handy application (app) to help check superfast and mobile connectivity

Ofcom also directs customers to the checker on their research partner's website:

Openreach:

Broadband Switch:

Customers should always check direct with their Internet Service Provider (ISP) about the availability of superfast and about the speeds that will be available to them.
